

HUMAN RIGHTS AND SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

A learning, training and practice session

Sustainable development and human rights are interlinked. One cannot be achieved without the other.

Our session focuses on the human rights-based approach to eradicating poverty and promoting prosperity.

Join us to explore how human rights...

- Make sure that no one is left behind
- Guide SDG implementation and data collection
- Reduce reporting burdens for states
- Provide a framework for international cooperation and partnerships

Meet resource persons from governments, the UN-system, indigenous peoples, civil society, national human rights institutions and businesses.

The session will include presentations of lessons learned, new knowledge, practical experiences and tools.

WHEN – 14 July 2017 3PM-6PM

WHERE – Conference room 6, UNHQ

THE DANISH
INSTITUTE FOR
HUMAN RIGHTS

